PROFILE

Self-developed data storyteller of more than six years with solid experience making sense of diverse datasets end to end. I excel at discovering, cleaning, wrangling, quality checking, analyzing and writing content that synthesizes complex data for easy public consumption. I have produced impactful stories on the themes of economics, public finance, climate, health among others, and in the process built hands-on knowledge of diverse data processing tools such as MS Excel, Google Sheets, OpenRefine, Google Data Studio, SQL Server, Python and LLMs.

EXPERIENCE

Data journalist and editor, Odipo Dev Limited/Africa Data Hub, Remote

April 2023 – Present

Doubled up as data journalist and content editor overseeing a team of data journalists, and as part of Africa Data Hub, I was instrumental in building an Africa-wide data repository and stories. Notably wrote an award winning article on the impact of U.S. Government withdrawal on the country's health system, and led the creation of the first femicide database and data story in Kenya.

- Source, extract, and clean economic, climate, gender, and health data from major public repositories including the World Bank, OECD, UN, IMF, and national statistics bureaus.
- Lead data storytelling initiatives for the Africa Data Hub, managing a consortium of four organizations to produce high-impact data stories for the African public.
- Analyze and interpret complex datasets using various analytical tools, applying a strong narrative lens to uncover insights while eliminating bias and false interpretations.

- Produce data-driven reports, articles, and explainer videos using jargon-free language to ensure data accessibility for a diverse, non-technical audience.
- Enforce rigorous quality and editorial standards to ensure all collected data and published stories align with Odipo Dev and Africa Data Hub's benchmarks

Multimedia Journalist, Debunk Media

June 2021 – October 2022

Focusing on financial and economic stories, I employed data to simplify stories around public debt, inflation, and packaging them in biteable ever-green multimedia pieces.

- Conducted in-depth research on key public-interest topics, collecting data and mining insights for multimedia storytelling.
- Wrote video scripts that clearly communicated the insights gathered which were used to create social media videos.
- Produced video stories and articles, ensuring alignment with Debunk Media's editorial standards.
- Generated story ideas, pitched stories, and contributed to Debunk Media's content strategy.
- Assisted in creating graphics, animations, and social media content.

Cash and Bank Accountant, MultiChoice Africa

July 2019 – September 2021

- Collated financial data and prepared monthly payments statistics report
- Curbed revenue leakage through bank reconciliations and financial controls.
- Processed accurate transaction matching and monthly bank reconciliations.

Treasury Accountant, MultiChoice Africa

July 2013 – June 2019

- Performed bank reconciliations in accordance with accounting standards.
- Prepared monthly cash analysis reports for management
